

From Zapata to the Zapatistas :
Mexican Literature and Culture in the 20th Century

Carlos
Fuentes

The Mexican Revolution

Frida Kahlo

Subcomandante
Marcos

Octavio Paz (Nobel Literature Prize, 1990)

Diego Rivera

What do these names and events have in common?

This course is an opportunity to study in depth Mexican literature and culture in the 20th century. We will review several of the literary movements (the contemporáneos, the narrative of the Revolution, regionalism/cosmopolitanism, women's literature, etc.) that have defined the field. We will also analyze events that have shaped Mexican literature and culture (the Conquest, the Mexican Revolution, the massacre of Tlatelolco, the Zapatista movement, etc.)

SPN 3520-001/20-Cent. Mexican Literature and Culture

TR 3:30-4:45 pm Cooper Hall 480

Profesor Pablo Brescia