

ITT 4531

ITALIAN FOOD IN FILM

Global Citizen Course

Would you like to learn more about food? Slow Food movement? Mediterranean Diet? Made in Italy? Biodiversity? Sustainable food systems? Food security? Food waste? Would you like to acquire 'food wisdom', practical cooking skills, and connoisseurship that have an impact on your life? Well, you should take this class... ☺ This course explores eating, one of the most basic acts of our lives, as represented in different Italian cinematic texts. We will have fieldwork assignments and cooking demonstrations at the kitchen demonstration classroom of the USF Diabetes Center. Enroll in this class and earn credit towards the Global Citizen Award! This class was selected to be certified. When you apply for a Global Citizen Award you also become eligible to apply for a $2500 Global Citizen Study Abroad Scholarship!

#foodsystems #Italianfood #Italianfoodculture #Italian #USF #sustainability
#DrLaTrecchia@USF #cookingdemonstration #theREALItalianfood #ItalianatUSF

Spring 2017 MW 3:30-4:45pm CPR 252

Dr. Patrizia La Trecchia | Associate Professor | patrizia@usf.edu

TED | Bio | Sustainability | FB | Twitter | Instagram | Interviews | Radio | Value of Food | Milan Protocol on Food & Nutrition | View my TED talk, please help me spread the word and together let's change the food system!